STEP-BY-STEP INSTRUCTIONS

1. Draw an arch about 10 cm away from the neckline. You arch should be parallel to the neckline.
2. Draw lines from the neckline to the arch that you have drawn. Leave the same distance between each line.

3. With a pair of scissors, cut through these lines that you have just drawn.
4. Now twist each piece of fabric that is between each two cuts and pin it to the next piece.

5. Finally, with some thread of the same colour sew the joint you have just attached with the pins. A couple of stitches should be enough.

TIPS

This design is very simple but attractive and you can adapt it to your preferences: twist the pieces more, do more cuts, do the cuts further or closer to each other, do this cuts on the lower part or at the backside...
